

Teamster Police Ban Bill Reported

LANING (AP) — Liquor on Sundays and holidays on Mondays apparently will not be approved by the Legislature this year.

But still alive are controversial Senate-passed bills eliminating the one-week wait for unemployment compensation and forbidding policemen to belong to unions which represent other types of employees.

That was part of the score today following the Friday deadline for action by committees in one house on bills passed by the other chamber.

In other Capitol Developments Friday:

Taxation, appropriation and court reorganization measures were exempt from the deadline.

Communists Hit In Border Areas

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported powerful new assaults on Communist troops today in the sensitive border provinces of South Vietnam while American jets smashed again at North Vietnam's MIG airfields and a power plant inside Haiphong.

The raids cost the United States one downed Navy Skyhawk jet Friday, the 361st plane downed over North Vietnam.

Returning pilots said one Soviet-built surface to air missile exploded 2,500 feet over the Kua Kam River and showered debris on a merchant ship moored in Haiphong. The nationality of the ship was not known.

Both on the ground and in the air the war appeared to be mounting in tempo.

A spokesman said the Marines have pulled all their men out of the southern half of the demilitarized zone, which they entered 10 days ago to wipe out Communist infiltration. Earlier today Marines had been locked with North Vietnamese troops on Hill 117 in the zone.

Out Of DMZ

"As of now there are no Marines in the DMZ," a spokesman said. "But the situation around Con Thien remains fluid."

There was heavy fighting reported in the three northernmost provinces of South Vietnam. These are the provinces of traditional political opposition and where the Communists have focused massive efforts by guerrillas and regular North Vietnamese forces.

The South Vietnamese sent more than 1,000 soldiers, supported by armored vehicles, on a sweep today just outside the ancient city of Hue, the capital of Thua Thien Province.

Within three miles, the South Vietnamese hit about 500 Communist troops and fought a three-hour battle, with air and artillery support. Sixty Communists were reported killed.

To the south in Quang Tin Province, U.S. Marines lifted the security wraps on Operation Union City 2, south of Da Nang. In the preceding 21 hours Marines killed 172 Communist soldiers in a series of sharp battles through thick underbrush and rugged terrain.

Marines Kill 111

On Hill 117 the Marines had announced killing at least 41 Reds with 14 Americans killed and 102 wounded.

In a battle south of Da Nang, a battalion of Marines—about 1,000 men—had made heavy contact with a contingent of Communist soldiers of equal strength. The leathernecks reported killing 131 enemy while taking losses of 28 killed and 40 wounded.

Although pilots encountered a blistering reception from SAMs and antiaircraft guns, the fleet MIGs stayed on the ground—where at least three were reported destroyed on the Kep airfield northeast of Hanoi.

Also bombed was the SAM missile training center at Thai Nguyen, 40 miles above Hanoi. It was the first time U.S. pilots had raided the center where crews are trained to fire what pilots call flying telephone poles.

—The Senate defeated bills to increase state park entrance fees and extend the per-year life of special resort liquor licenses from 10 months to 12.

—Republicans officially gained a majority in the House with the swearing in of Anthony Licata, R-Detroit, but Democrats petitioned for a recount of the vote in last Tuesday's special election.

—The first two Michigan State policemen were sworn in.

Gov. George Romney announced the appointment of Dr. William Anderson of Columbia, Mo., as state mental health director.

—Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley announced plans to appeal a court ruling which apparently struck down the current Oakland County one-man grand jury probe.

—The House approved a bill aimed at encouraging construction of more housing for low and moderate income groups.

A Senate bill allowing counties to legalize Sunday liquor sales with voter approval was defeated in the House Liquor Committee Friday, while a House-passed measure to ensure that seven nonreligious holidays would always fall on Mondays was killed by a Senate committee.

But the House Labor Committee, at the last minute, reported to the floor two senate bills which are expected to inspire some heated partisan controversy. Those measures would:

—Slightly increase unemployment compensation benefits and provide payment for the first week of joblessness, mainly for auto plant workers who are laid off annually for model change-over.

—Provide that sheriff's and police employees may not belong to labor organizations representing other types of employees, and that supervisory and non-supervisory public employees cannot belong to the same union unless agreement is negotiated with the employer.

Arabs Will Destroy Israel If War Comes Says Nasser

U.S. Turns To U.N. For Peace In Near East

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the departure of Israel's Foreign Minister Abba Eban, U.S. diplomats turned to the United Nations today for the next round in strenuous diplomatic efforts to keep the Middle East crisis from erupting into a shooting war.

Eban wound up a hurried trip to Washington with a 1 1/2-hour talk with President Johnson Friday night before returning to Israel to report to his prime minister.

By agreement, neither the White House nor the Israeli leader would comment on Eban's day-and-a-half of discussions with the President, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other high officials.

Israel wants U.S. backing to keep open the Gulf of Aqaba, its narrow waterway link to the Red Sea. Egypt says it has closed the gulf to Israeli ships and vessels carrying war goods to the Israeli port of Elath.

U.S. 'Villain' In Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Middle East crisis has made the United States the arch villain in Syria and Egypt.

Cairo Radio says the United States completely sides with Israel — accused by Egypt of planning to attack its ally Syria — and cannot be trusted. It declares the fight is really with the United States and Israel is "an insignificant and worthless state."

Damascus radio, besides assailing the United States, takes out after the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean. A current broadcast boasts, "We shall triumph and let the Zionists and the 6th Fleet go to hell."

The American position in the crisis also has embarrassed the monarchies of Saudi Arabia and Jordan, which have been under attack by Cairo radio for their pro-Western stance.

In the current crisis, Saudi Arabia and Jordan have lined up with other Arab countries against Israel, apparently with some misgivings.

While the United States is reviled, the Soviet Union and even France—which with Britain attacked Egypt in 1956—bask in a glow of Arab friendship.

The Soviet Union received warm praise for its careful statement of support for the Arabs and the inflicting on Western nations what Cairo called "their greatest defeat in the U.N. Security Council."

This was a reference to Soviet opposition to any action by the council and its noncommittal position on Big Four talks on the crisis.

Dane Ship May Test Blockade In Tiran Strait

BULLETIN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant called today for a breathing spell in the Middle East crisis to permit a diplomatic effort to solve underlying causes of Arab-Israeli conflict. He urged restraint on both sides.

Thant expressed fear that a clash between Israel and Egypt over Israeli shipping through the Straits of Tiran will "inevitably set off a general conflict" in the middle East.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser says he knows his blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba could lead to war with Israel and, if war does come, the Arabs will set out to destroy the Jewish state.

Israel was reported avoiding an immediate challenge to the announced blockade of its direct route to Iranian oil and other cargoes from the East. But it has said it will fight to keep the gulf open.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, who talked with Nasser Wednesday, reports today to the U.N. Security Council on his peace mission. The United States hopes his report can boost diplomatic efforts to prevent Arab-Israeli fighting over the gulf.

President Johnson met with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban on the crisis Friday night, but neither would comment on their discussions. Israel wants U.S. backing to keep the gulf open.

The Soviet Union has called on the United States and other Western nations to restrain Israel from a thrust against the Arabs.

A test of Egyptian control measures over the Straits of Tiran, at the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba, was possible today, but not before Israeli ships.

Ship Due At Aqaba

A Danish freighter, identified as the Estelle Maersk, was due at the Jordanian port of Aqaba, two miles from Israel's Gulf port of Elath. It was the first ship since the blockade was announced to come to Aqaba without first going through the Red Canal.

The canal has shut to Israel. Four other ships, which have come to Aqaba in the last three days, already had been checked by Egypt when they entered Suez.

The shipper of one of the four, the West German reefer Stolzmeier, said Friday night he

Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., a CMU alumnus, will speak at the June 10 commencement.

Mental Health Chief Chosen

LANING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has appointed Dr. William Anderson of Columbia, Mo., as director of the State Department of Mental Health.

Anderson will succeed Dr. Vernon Stehman, acting director since the resignation last November of Dr. Robert Kim-nich.

Anderson, superintendent of the Mid-Missouri Mental Health Center and associate professor of psychiatry at the University of Missouri, will take over as head of Michigan's mental health setup July 1.

The post pays $30,000 a year. The appointment is for a term at the pleasure of the governor and requires Senate confirmation.

Marines' Boss Praises Walt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top Marine rejects reports the corps top brass is unhappy with both a lieutenant general and a rifle.

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, described Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt — recently recalled from Vietnam — as "my right hand" and termed the M16 rifle "superior in design to any we have ever had."

Both Walt and the M16 have been reported recently as out of favor with the Marine hierarchy.

But Greene told a Pentagon news conference: "Any implication that Gen. Walt has done less than an outstanding job in Vietnam is an injustice to a fine officer." He said reports reflecting on Walt "bothered me considerably."

Walt, who commanded the 75,000 Marines in Vietnam for two years, will become the corps' personnel chief.

Greene also said he wanted to scotch reports the Marines are dissatisfied with the M16, a lightweight, fast-firing rifle issued to about 20,000 Marines in Vietnam.

A House Armed Services subcommittee plans to visit Vietnam June 1 to investigate complaints the weapon has malfunctioned in battle.

Greene conceded the M16 has malfunctioned on occasion, but said this also was true of rifles used by the corps in other wars.

He suggested some individual Marines may have been lax in maintaining the rifle, and added: "The M16 rifle is superior in design to any we have ever had, but you do have to take particular care of it."

Four State Men Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of four Michigan men killed in action in Vietnam were released by the Defense Department Friday.

They were: Army Pfc. Randall R. Aylworth, husband of Mrs. Lorna Aylworth of Alto; Army Pfc. Clifford E. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelley, Newaygo; Marine Pfc. Thomas E. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold G. Henderson, Leapeer; and Marine Pfc. Mark R. Lander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lander, Battle Creek.

Spec. 4 Peter Valencich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valencich, Manchester, was listed as dead, not as a result of hostile action.

Red Shore Guns Duel With Ships Of South Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — An unknown number of South Korean naval vessels engaged a 20-minute gun fight with North Korean shore batteries today across the armistice border off the west coast of Korea, military sources said.

The fight started near the Yongsong Island, 50 miles northwest of Inchon when the Reds opened fire on South Korean warships patrolling the area to protect fishing operations, they said.

It was not known whether either side suffered casualties or damage. It was the first gun battle between South Korean naval craft and Communist coastal batteries on the west coast since the 1953 armistice.

Park Fee Hike Victory Sighted

LANING (AP) — Two bills of prime interest to Michigan's resort area were shot down in the Senate Friday.

One, to increase the fees for a state park's entrance sticker, has a good chance of being revived and passed.

The other, to extend resort liquor licenses from 10 months to a year, needs a major third transfusion of favorable votes.

Only 31 of the senate's 38 members were on hand to vote Friday. Many of those missing were getting a fast jump on the long weekend.

The measure to hike park fees failed to pass on a 17-14 vote. Twenty votes are required for passage.

Sen. Frank Bradley, R-St. Clair, quickly moved for reconsideration of the vote and scheduled it for next week.

Supporters were sure they would have enough votes for passage when the missing senators reported for duty.

Alaska's Fair Opens Today

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Mortar fire and band music signaled the start today of Alaska's 49th state centennial celebration.

Gov. Walter B. Hickel's ship of the ribbon at noon opens the 40-acre fairground on the bank of the Chena River.

Cost of the fair is close to the $7 million that U.S. Secretary of State William Seward paid Russia for Alaska in 1867.

Twenty-six Alaska communities have exhibits at the fair, which is expected to draw more than 350,000 persons before it closes Sept. 30.

Alaska wildlife is featured in an outdoor zoo and the old sternwheeler Nenana has been refurbished as a restaurant and cocktail lounge.

There is a complete Gold Rush Town, where the post office has three mail slots. A sign over one reads, "By air, God and weather willing," over another, "By first available dog team." The third slot reads simply, "The other side of town."

Waterford, stormed his disappointment after the vote.

"I'm not too proud to admit that in the Senate," he declared. "The vote were not for the people of Michigan. The vote were not for the United States. The vote were not for the nation."

Earlier, Sen. John T. R. Cadilla, and Thomas Schweigert, R-Peewee, tried to amend an amendment to make fees for residents and tourists alike. Their amendment didn't even get as far as a vote.

To Try Again

Michigan's northern senators have confirmed the high park fees would discriminate against and drive out tourists.

The proposal to allow year-around resort liquor licenses drew only 13 favorable votes to 14 against.

Resort area senators still hoped to be able to recruit enough votes next week to pass the bill on another try.

A switch on this issue would require a change of heart in some of those opposed or a favorable vote from all seven missing senators.

North Western Plans Essex Wire Purchase

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago and North Western Railway announced today a plan to diversify its operations further through the acquisition of Essex Wire Corp., a major producer of electrical wire and related products.

Ben Heineman, chairman of North Western, said agreement has been reached with management of Essex, with headquarters in Fort Wayne, Ind., and plants in Michigan, on terms of a plan whereby a holding company to be formed by North Western would acquire Essex.

Heineman and Walter F. Probst, chairman of Essex, in a joint statement, said the proposed acquisition would be accomplished through the issuance of securities and the payment of cash. They placed the par value of the securities and cash involved at $367 million.

The agreement is subject to satisfactory tax ruling and completion of detailed studies.

To Exchange Shares
A holding company to be known as North Western Industries, Inc., would offer to exchange share for share with present holders of North Western preferred and common stock shares in the new company equal to their present holdings.

Holders of Essex stock would receive for each share held $41.67 principal amount of North Western industries 5 per cent convertible subordinated debentures and $4.17 in cash. They also would be given three years following consummation of the acquisition to convert these debentures into North Western Industries common stock if they so desire.

The exchange offer to North Western and Essex shareholders is contingent on acceptance by at least 80 per cent of the outstanding shares of both firms.

In 1966, Essex had net income of $24.5 million on sales of $375 million. The North Western in 1966 earned $26 million on total revenues from railway operations and chemical sales of $316 million.

Acquired Chemical Firms
The North Western started its diversification program in 1965 when it acquired Velsicol Chemical Corp. as a wholly owned subsidiary and Michigan Chemical Co. as a majority owned subsidiary.

A merger of the North Western, which operates more than 10,000 miles of line in nine midwestern states, and the Chicago Great Western Railway recently was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

North Western also is involved in proceedings to merge with the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad and also is seeking control of the Rock Island Lines.

Widows and Widowers
The U. S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports the number of U. S. widows was more than four times the number of widowers in 1966. There were 8.9 million widowed women in the nation, compared to 2.0 million widowed men at that time.

Great Lakes Fishery Surveys Are Launched

LANSING—A far-flung series of intensive Great Lakes fish studies has been put into high gear by the Conservation Department to give it a closer look at commercial harvests and sportfishing potentials.

Among important survey work that started this month is a monitoring program to size up the volume of lake trout, salmon, and other protected fish that are taken incidental to commercial gill and trawling operations in lakes Superior, Michigan, and Huron.

Between May and December, conservation officers and department fisheries men are scheduled to make more than 300 inspection trips aboard commercial boats in the three upper Great Lakes to get a better reading on these incidental catches.

Besides measuring how selective various kinds of commercial fishing gear are in their harvests, the monitoring will pull together up-to-date information on Great Lakes stocks themselves; their makeup by species, abundance, distribution, losses to lampreys, and other biological data.

Ultimate goal of this fact-finding is to evaluate and, if necessary, adjust commercial regulations to better manage the Great Lakes for their full fishing potential.

Devolting this study is a general inventory on sportfishing species which will run through November in northern Lake Michigan.

Perkins

Memorial Day
Memorial Day services will begin at 1 a. m. Tuesday, May 30, at Perkins High School. There will be a parade to the Legion Hall grounds where the flag raising ceremonies will be held. Colors will lead the parade and the band will follow to the Legion Hall, and Rev. J. A. Henry of Perkins Baptist Church will be the speaker at the Memorial Day services at the cemetery.

Among those attending graduation exercises at Perkins High School Wednesday, May 24 were Mrs. Charles Delmont, Mrs. Jim Owens and Mrs. Russell Westmond, all from Little Lake.

Mrs. Alex LeChance is on a committee for the cancer drive. She will cover the rural area. Co-workers are Mrs. Don Smith and Miss Gabriele Cotmyer. They will cover the village of Perkins.

The second of these surveys is being conducted aboard the department's Patrol Boat No. 2 which is rigged with trawling and gill netting gear to refine and expand upon information collected from the inspection trips on commercial craft.

In southern Lake Michigan off the west shore of the state, uring whitefish stocks in northern Lake Michigan which have made a dramatic recovery in the last few years.

By taking whitefish samples and recording biological findings from them, the department hopes to learn more accurately how well these fish have come back and what rate of commercial harvests they can safely stand.

Rounding out the department's survey program are studies scheduled to start soon which will update information on the status of lake trout in Lake Superior in the Caribou Island and Isle Royale areas.

Salmon

Sport fishermen in the Upper Peninsula are missing a good thing if they don't make a play for coho salmon in the state's western Lake Superior waters. Take it from Gust Kulsmi of Wakefield who last week hauled in five of these fish while test trolling for only a few hours off the Black River Harbor area near Bessemer. The fish, averaging about 17 inches, were all taken close to shore in the upper 30 feet of water. Kulsmi, excited about this new brand of sport fishing and the fine eating quality of coho, predicts that good numbers of these silver salmon can be caught with only a normal amount of angling effort.

another boat is being manned by the department to keep it and sport fishermen abreast of latest happenings on the coho fishing front.

Department workers aboard the 20-foot boat are now operating netting and trolling gear in the Saugatuck area to pinpoint salmon schools and test out best methods for fishing coho.

This special project, designed to promote offshore fishing this summer by sportsmen, is scheduled to move up the west side of Michigan as coho migrate toward planted tributaries where they will make upstream runs in the fall.

Another special survey now under way centers upon meas-

A graduate of Baraga High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth St. Germain of Baraga. He attended Ferris Institute one year and then spent four years in the U. S. Air Force, followed by three years in the U. S. Army. He spent one year with the Army flying helicopters in Vietnam and was discharged last August.

St. Germain spent last fall under contract to the U. S. Forest Service in Colorado flying helicopters on forest fire patrol. He later joined a helicopter spraying company in Janesville, Wis. Immediately prior to accepting his present position with the department, St. Germain was engaged in a helicopter spraying project in Detroit to control Dutch Elm disease.

He is married to the former Pauline Schultz of L'Anse. They have two children.

The department's $35,460 helicopter is stationed at Marquette. It will be used primarily for forest fire detection and control, but also will be employed in a variety of other operations, including searches for persons lost in the woods, planting fish in remote waters, conducting lake and stream surveys, aerial law enforcement patrols, winter deer yard investigations, etc.

Prepare Children For Kindergarten, Doctor Urges

Parents who plan to enroll youngsters in kindergarten in the fall should begin getting booster immunizations, regular immunizations and skin tests now if they have not already done so this year, Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee Health Dept. said today.

Michigan Law requires diphtheria, tetanus, polio, smallpox, measles, and tuberculosis tests. Any or all of these can be obtained at the physicians office or the health department clinic.

Parents should also check with the school regarding the necessity of physical examinations, Dr. Cretens continued. Quite a few schools in Delta and Menominee County require physical evaluations done by a physician. Examinations of this kind help to pick up defects that prevent the child from working to full capacity at school.

Three Wrecked Kids

We surmise that the public believes that our social welfare program is now well organized and well financed and that there need be no general concern about it. We read about the millions being spent on Aid to Dependent Children programs and similar help to the needy and a public impression is created that all is well. This is not the informed view.

The persons who work professionally and officially with the problems of seeing that our children are protected from harm and given the shelter and health services that they need and adequate schooling point out that there are some soft spots. Troubles persevere and they change and new ones are constantly emerging.

There are people outside the aid programs who need help on occasions and the discovery process becomes difficult here. One of the ways that some of such cases are identified is through the schools' truancy reports.

Recently a working mother was brought into municipal court in Escanaba charged with failure to send three children to school. One had missed 66 days, one 70, one 90! There are only 175 days in the school year, so with 90 missed and some of the year still to run, the child had been out of school more than in.

Judge James Fitzharris put the mother on probation for six months. It is as good a remedy as the court's resources permit. It can keep jurisdiction in the case and permits the court to determine whether the mother's contribution to the children's delinquency has ceased, and it can, by terms of the probation try for a correction of the home conditions.

But Judge Fitzharris feels lack of means to deal adequately with a situation of this kind. "These are all bright little kids," he says, "they are not anti-social." But they're being injured severely. The kind of adults that they will become is almost certainly being very strongly influenced by the circumstances in which they live.

Looked at from the government view, these children are being headed toward poor lives that are apt to make them dependent upon welfare programs. They have missed so much school that they have fallen far behind their classmates and it will be easy for them to slip into a belief that school's too tough for them and that they'd better bug out, although this isn't true at all. Accepting defeat in schooling is a Head Start on being defeated in life.

The schools are as concerned about these cases as the court. Top level school administrators attended the court hearing and counseled with the court on means of helping these children. If social agencies are to be active it should be much more effective to help beginners who are in trouble than to try a patch job on dropouts. But these people are not welfare recipients and so aren't under any welfare agency discipline.

The working mother is brought into court for neglecting her children's schooling and if the court puts her in jail it fears — and with good reason — that the neglect may be enlarged; that it is being punitive without being helpful.

The schools, already saddled with many tasks which were once the responsibility of the family, are not structured, financed nor staffed to do social work, and yet it seems the inevitable need if problems like this one are to be solved. The trouble is created by the parent; the problem descends upon the children. Only the school and the court know how much harm is being done and they're not in a good position to solve it.

If there's a moral here it is that despite our "affluent" society and costly welfare programs there is quite a bit of marginal family trouble and that it can do children a lifetime injury. Judge Fitzharris feared for "three wrecked kids."

Seek New Red Curb

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The latest "expose" of Central Intelligence Agency activities raises some unsolved problems in the war against communism and other subversive insurgencies.

The U. S. objective is to prevent future Vietnams. The most effective way this can be done is through strengthening democratic student, labor, parent-teacher, farmer and women's groups, political parties and trade associations.

But these are the very groups the Communists attempt to infiltrate, and take over or destroy. When Communists cannot subvert these groups, they organize rival groups. The subverters and rival organizations are subsidized with funds from Moscow, Peking or some other Red center.

In a weak or unstable country, money-poor student, labor, teacher or farmer groups often cannot stand up against the excellently trained and paid subverters or the Communist-financed rival groups. If the non-Communist groups go under, there will, in time, be a Red take-over or another Vietnam.

Then how should the United States and the free world go about strengthening the democratic groups?

Also, what should the United States do when the only anti-Communist groups are not democratic? (The Communists don't hesitate to subsidize extreme right-wing groups when it serves their purpose.)

If U. S. government funds were given openly to democratic groups in foreign countries, these groups would become known as American stooges and lose their effectiveness. (The Communists provide their funds in secret by the same logic.)

Up to now, a share of what the United States has done has been through the CIA men who have decided what they thought best in each individual case. The job has been done in secret. When the aid comes to light, it boomerangs.

What's the answer? The United States cannot stand idly by and see the subsidized Communist groups take over in the developing countries (or in industrial countries in times of stress). But CIA subsidies have serious drawbacks—exposure, decisions without adequate policy supervision, embroiling the United States in the internal intrigues of foreign countries.

The best solution would be for private American and other free world democratic groups to do more to help their colleagues in other countries. If more help were given to Vietnam labor unions jointly by democratic Korean, American, Canadian and British labor unions, any stigma attached to the receipt of foreign aid would be lessened.

United States and other free world student groups could do more themselves in helping financially the democratic student groups of the developing countries. The same goes for teachers' groups, agricultural groups, trade associations, parents' groups and the wide array of other organizations which help build a country's democratic base.

This is not to discount the excellent work that has been done by some of these groups—U. S. labor unions, for example. It is to suggest, however, that much more must be done to secure the co-operation of free institutions in other countries and more done to substitute private money for government aid.

Sometimes government funds cost too much in side effects.

Letters To Ask The Dentist The Press

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE D.D.S.

First Dental Visit Important

Before I begin this letter I would like the parents of the two boys we lost in the war in the last month to know that Delta County citizens can only send them their sympathy.

The young men of today are fighting for freedom of speech, freedom of press and equal rights. Also to vote the way you want to and to go to the church of your choice. I believe in this. But I don't believe in sending young men just out of high school to Vietnam to prove it.

I never heard of this little country before this war started, but I'm learning a lot lately. I do believe in fighting for your country, but not traveling thousands of miles to prove how strong we are, when we should be sweeping off our own doorstep.

Young men of today are sent over there to fight. For what? Most of the men have never been out of their home town before, but (they can go) as long as there are young men 18 to 20 years old.

I don't think Cassius Clay, the world's greatest boxer, has anything to worry about. When young men of this age are around he will be protected. I'm sure of that. When Clay has to hide behind the cloth of God to get out of going in the service this is hitting below the belt. I have never heard of a church yet where they use a boxing ring as an altar.

TOURISM

Three cheers for the editorial regarding a realistic view of tourism. It is discouraging to see the tremendous amounts of time and money spent in master plans and the vacuum that follows.

I have worked with individuals and groups throughout the Upper Peninsula who are interested in tourism. Most are well aware of what they could plan with unlimited funds. Our efforts have been to work with what we have at hand.

Industry has participated in our tourist programs on a small scale. I am certain its leaders would invest far more if tourist people would spend less time planning and talking and more time doing.

I am sold on the Upper Peninsula. We should plan and raise our sights, but let's get up and do something now. A few more editorials like the one of May 22 might just put the action where we are.

North and South might well have gone to four spades with their cards. South would have no trouble making four spades if he could find East with the king of spades because he would be able to draw trumps and eventually discard one diamond on dummy's fourth club.

Three spades was a far better contract but South did not make that either. East's defense was too good.

West opened the eight of hearts. East looked things over carefully and saw that his partner was sure to hold the king of hearts. West would have led the jack from jack-ten-nine-eight. East also saw that he needed to get the lead twice and played his queen of hearts. Then he led back the eight of diamonds. South played the ten and West the jack. Dummy's ace won the trick and the spade finesse was lost. West put East in with the ace of hearts and the second diamond lead gave West two diamond tricks.

"Beautiful defense," said West. "Glad you didn't put me to the test."

"What test?" asked East. "A real test," said West. "A bad player would have won the first heart with the ace and played the queen immediately. This would have given South his contract automatically. A fair player would have won the first heart with the ace and led the diamond. This play would have given me a chance to underlead my king of hearts when I got in with the king of spades. I'm happy you didn't give me that problem."

The straightforward, truthful, low-gear approach in dental offices seems to work best for most children, and for most adults, too.

Preparing children in advance by telling them all about the dentist, what a nice man he is, what marvelous equipment he has, and "he doesn't even hurt," are usually calculated to make young patients suspect that maybe the dentist isn't so nice. (Who knows? There may even be some dentists who aren't nice.) It also suggests that this marvelous, but frightening equipment will be used on them.

Of course, there is no perfect approach to dentistry, and there are children on whom no approach seems to work. These are children who have built in anxieties about every new adventure, dentistry being near the top of the list. Genetics and family life must have an important role. Special problems must be treated in special ways.

Start your child's regular visits to the dentist at an early age. Examination of his teeth and mouth may disclose defects that can be treated before they become complicated.

Also, the type of treatment that Jacob got—cleaning and polishing with fluoride buffing paste, painting teeth with tin fluoride—can reduce incidence of tooth decay.

Recognizing Need Is Step To Change

Dear Ann Landers: What does a woman do when she reaches her 40th birthday and suddenly realizes she doesn't like herself?

I don't like working so hard to be cordial to friends when deep down I resent them for reasons which don't make sense. I don't like the way I have blamed others for my failures. I don't like the casual manner in which I have passed on petty gossip that should have stopped with me.

Is it possible to make one's self over? Could I change? What do you say, Ann Landers?—TOO WELL-KNOWN TO SIGN INITIALS

Dear Well-Known: Of course you can change, and you've already taken the most important step—recognizing the need to change and wishing to do so.

You seem filled with hostility. Do you know why? And toward whom? Talk this out with someone whose job it is to listen. When you unload those ugly feelings you will no longer be compelled to punish your family and friends. You will like yourself better and find it easier to be civil and perhaps even gracious to those around you.

Three spades was a far better contract but South did not make that either. East's defense was too good.

Paul is a dentist. He receives dozens of professional journals, advertising flyers and countless boxes of samples and "gifts" from pharmaceutical houses. This junk is sent to his office, but he brings every bit of it home. Every night he hauls in more paraphernalia, and now I can't even set up an ironing board or a sewing machine in what was supposed to be my work room. His library is so crammed full of trash I have given up trying to clean it. He has ordered me not to touch anything.

Paul has promised dozens of times to sort things out but he never gets around to it. In the meantime, I am ashamed to have guests over and I'm drowning in junk.

What's the answer?—CROWDED

Dear Crowded: Do you have fire insurance? If you don't have it, you should. Ask your insurance man to look at your place. A call from him might inspire Pack-Rat Paul to get rid of at least some of the junk. If this doesn't work, resign yourself and accept, with grace, that which you cannot change.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright 1967, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate

School Contract Can't Provide For Arbitration

LANSING (AP)—School boards now lack the authority to write compulsory arbitration clauses into work contracts with their employees, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled.

The Legislature can grant boards of education that authority, Kelley said, but so far it hasn't.

"School districts possess such powers only as the Legislature expressly or by reasonably necessary implication has granted to them," the ruling said, adding:

"... I find no express grant of authority in the School Code of 1955 empowering boards of education to agree to compulsory arbitration."

State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, requested the ruling.

Tax Counsel Called Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — Its No. 1 tax authority says Congress needs a commission of outsiders to take a cold-eyed look at government spending and taxing.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee says such a panel should look at current programs and lay the foundation for rational policy. Mills is on record as favoring a long-range policy of tax reduction.

"We can't have a reasonable tax policy apart from a reasonable spending policy," Mills told an interviewer. "We can't finance through taxes the programs now in existence as they may grow. Such taxes would throw the economy into a tailspin."

"But we lose our options for using tax policy to foster long-term growth because we simply don't know which programs are worth the most and which the least in terms of benefits related to costs."

"The best way to economize is not to cut $10 million from this activity or $20 million from that simply because you have the opportunity to do it. It might be much better to eliminate altogether the programs that are providing the least in relation to their cost."

Mills has mentioned in two recent speeches the possibility of a presidential commission to advise Congress on government spending.

Letters To The Press

Hall Criticism Of Vo-Ed Is Called Destructive

The article in Wednesday's Escanaba Daily Press headed "Vo-Ed Failure is Laid to Schools" illustrates some of our problems in proper planning for the education of our youth. I do not mean the public schools, as the writer implied. I am referring to speakers such as this who use erroneous statistics, gross exaggeration and generalization, name-calling, and a willingness to put all the blame on someone else.

Mr. Harry Hall, (head of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce) is quoted at length in such statements that the failure of vocational-technical programs to meet present demands is due to the "academia" that has run rampant in education circles. "This has been fostered," he said, "by diploma-happy professional academicians who have succeeded in brainwashing parents."

I strongly protest the over-generalization, the lack of understanding and the incorrect statistics quoted in his speech. Certainly there are problems in any educational venture; however, I am convinced that all people involved in any such venture have the same goal in mind, the best possible education for our youth.

Public school people are working as hard as they know how and using all their extensive knowledge and ability to plan the best programs. Labor education committees and other groups are also putting all their efforts into improvement of education.

We had an extremely productive meeting this week with representatives of labor and public schools concerning vocational education. The meeting was productive because everyone made a sincere effort to understand the other parties. This understanding takes considerable effort and patience. Articles and quotes such as those mentioned above interfere with this communication between groups and make it difficult for proper planning to take place.

We commend the participants of our local meeting for their effort to speak from facts and sound philosophical bases. They were then able to clearly identify the differences in philosophy and make intelligent and constructive plans for progress. If we had indulged in the name-calling and propagandizing such as that in the speech quoted above our meeting would have been a total failure. Let us keep this in mind in future meetings and we will have the best possible programs for our youth. May I conclude with a public statement of appreciation for the constructive efforts made by the labor and public school representatives.

SO NOW IT'S "PILLING"

The march of progress is endless — like death and taxes. From one problem to the next — from one solution to the next.

Now it's "pilling."

Know what is "pilling?" That's what happens when two or more fabrics which are not related are woven together to produce benefits in wear that neither fabric by itself has. So far it sounds good, and it is.

But... let's see what actually happens in an actual case. We're getting trousers and other garments in here which are all covered with little "balls" or "pills". This has happened when rayon or wool or silk is mixed with orlon or dacron or nylon. The purpose is to reduce wrinkling and to increase wear. The purpose is good and the result is good. Both things do happen. But, since the weave mixture is of fibers of differing strengths, the uneven wear of one against the other simply means that one fabric "toughs" a little faster, and balls up into those little pills which cling to the surface of the garment.

Oh well. Ho-hum. What can you do about it? I dunno. What can we do about it? W.E.L.L., we could maybe shave or clip the fuzz.

Anyhow, for good cleaning you can always Dick McCarthy, highly successful track coach at Kingsford High School, has announced his resignation at the close of the school year. McCarthy's Flivvers have won nine straight Menominee Range Conference crowns and he has turned out some of the top individual performers in the Peninsula in the last decade. McCarthy will retain his position as athletic director at Kingsford.

Marinette speedster Rick Schoner tied the school record in the 100 yard dash, hitting a 10 flat time in a triangular meet against Peshtigo and Menominee this week. Schoner, unbeaten in the century this spring, churned to a 10.35 clocking in a meet at the Escanaba field three weeks ago.

Iron Mountain-Kingsford Credit Union captured top prize money of $700 with a first place finish in the team division of the Upper Peninsula men's bowling tournament at Marquette, rolling a 3261 score. John Swajenen and Ray Long of Marquette won the doubles crown and $250 with 1363 pins. Dick Ogle of Marquette took first place in the singles with a 719 series and Ralph Maki of Ishpeming led the all events list with a 1980 total. The tournament paid off a total of $5,447 in prize money.

Coach Tom O'Neil's Holy Name tennis team remained undefeated in regular season competition this week by downing Marinette, 6-2. The Crusaders will be shooting for the Upper Peninsula crown in the finals at Marquette June 2-3.

Jerry Pertunnen of Marquette, a 210 pound junior tackle, and Al Hartman of downstate Saline were voted the outstanding player in the Michigan Tech spring football practice sessions. They were honored at the annual awards banquet at Marquette this week.

Al Inkala, Wakefield's outstanding basketball player, is also the top tennis player in the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference this spring. Inkala defeated teammate Dan Mattson in the singles finals of the M-W conference meet. Ashland took team honors with 32 points to 25 for runner-up Wakefield. Winner of the John Kramer Memorial award as the outstanding basketball player in the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference, Inkala will enroll at Northern Michigan University next fall.

Ed Gauthier Jr., former Escanaba High School athlete, has been named most valuable player on the Central Michigan University freshman baseball team this spring. Gauthier, a right fielder, batted in the cleanup spot in the Chippewa lineup and compiled a .468 average.

Tigers Stage Rally To Defeat Senators

DETROIT (AP)—The gauge of a champion is ability to come from behind when the chips are down.

The Detroit Tigers met the test Friday night in a 10-5 victory over the Washington Senators, overcoming deficits of 3-1 and 4-3 and 5-4.

"It was great to see the guys battle back like that," said catcher Bill Freehan who drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly.

Dick McAuliffe, who scored four runs and had three hits, produced the key play in the sixth with some clutch base running.

The little second baseman hit a looping drive to short left field, and when Senator outfielder Frank Howard couldn't hold the ball after a long run, McAuliffe took off for second and beat the throw for a double.

He went to third on Don Wert's long fly and scored the go-ahead run when Al Kaline singled through a drawn-in infield.

The Tigers broke the game open in the eighth with a four-run rally sparked by Willie Horton's bases-loaded single.

But it was touch and go early in the game. Washington jumped on Detroit starter Joe Sparma for three runs in the first inning. Manager Mayo Smith stuck with Sparma until the fourth when the Senators took a 5-4 lead.

"His fast ball had a good hop but Joe had trouble getting his breaking stuff over," said Freehan.

Smith said he left Sparma in the game to see if he could get untracked, but finally pulled him for Dave Wickersham, who got credit for his second win with five innings of one-hit pitching.

Wickersham walked the first two men to open the Washington ninth and was lifted for Fred Gladding, who finished up.

Gladding fanned Howard and got Cap Peterson to hit into a double play to end the game.

Kaline drove in Detroit's first run with a single in the first inning, and the Tigers knotted the score at 3-3 on RBI singles from Don Wert and McAuliffe.

Peterson's double and Ken Karrnelson's single made it 4-3 in the Washington third and the Tigers tied it up in their half of the inning on a double by Norm Cash and Freehan's triple, which eluded Howard at the left field fence.

The Senators got another run off Sparma in the fourth and Wickersham came on to end the threat.

Jim Northrup's single and a two-out double by Ray Oyler tied the score at 5-5 in the fifth.

The victory, combined with Chicago's split of a doubleheader at California, left Detroit one-half game out of first place.

Percy Avoids Endorsements

FLINT (AP)—U. S. Senator Charles Percy of Illinois said at Flint that he will not be goaded into taking a position regarding next year's Republican Presidential nomination before he's ready.

In a news conference the fire-hman senator remained politely noncommittal about contenders for the nomination, including Michigan Gov. George Romney, and seemed concerned that his one-day trip to the state might be misinterpreted.

Percy was the star attraction of a fund raising event sponsored by Genesee County Republicans.

Percy flew to the Flint session after addressing a Michigan Week luncheon in Grand Rapids.

He asserted he is not a candidate for the GOP nomination and doesn't intend to be one.

Although he avoided words that could be taken as an endorsement of Romney, Percy said the governor's chances of obtaining the nomination are "very good."

Ruppe Moves To Speed Mail For Servicemen

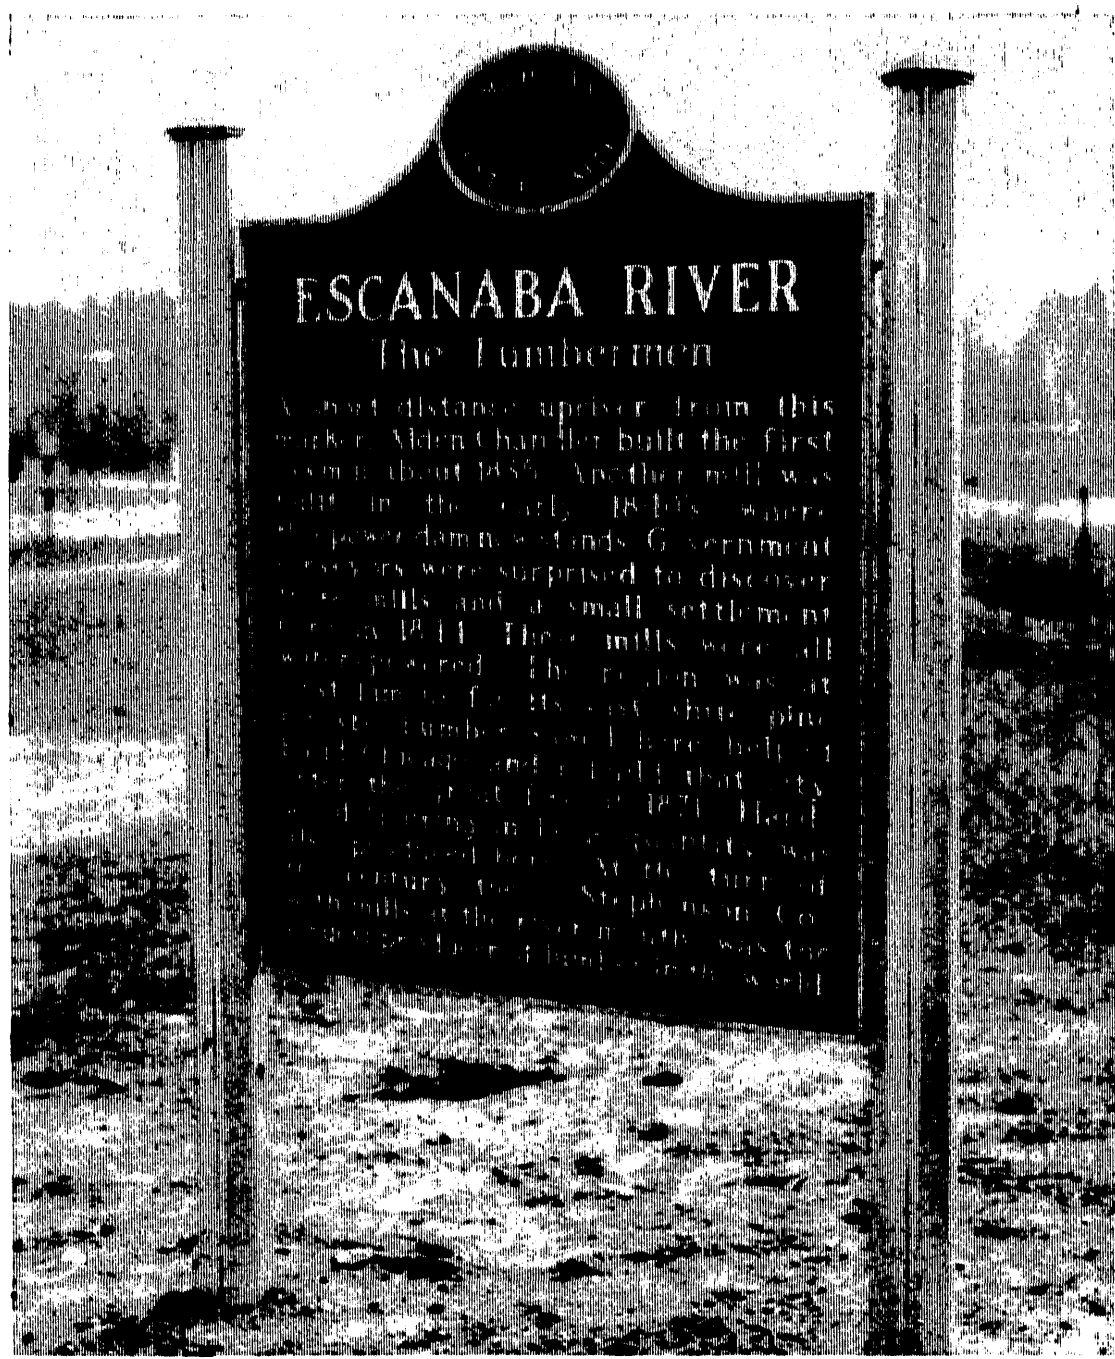

WASHINGTON — Congressman Phil Ruppe (R-Mich) stated today that he has co-sponsored legislation "to see that all servicemen serving in remote overseas areas have the benefits of fast, efficient, and less expensive mail service."

"Several of us," Ruppe said, "became aware of the need for such legislation early this session, and a Post Office Subcommittee conducted hearings. As a result of the hearings, I co-sponsored legislation with Congressman Thaddeus Dulski (D-N.Y.) which we introduced this week."

The legislation will extend free mailing privileges for servicemen overseas; provide for a new category of airtail for parcels up to 30 pounds going to servicemen overseas; and extend the airtail for news value publications to any servicemen overseas.

Ruppe said, "It costs about $8.08 to mail a 10 pound package from Buffalo to Vietnam. Under my bill, the same package could be airtailed from Buffalo to Vietnam at a postage cost of about $3."

Ruppe said the Johnson Administration opposes the bill, "because they consider special mailing privileges for servicemen a fringe benefit, and want to study it in the context of a comprehensive review of military pay, allowances, and fringe benefits, and want Congress to delay action."

saw no physical sign of a blockade in the Strait of Tiran.

Cairo's semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram had reported that Egyptian authorities in the strait had stopped and searched the Stolzenfels. It also said Egypt had mined the strait.

The American freighter Green Island also was expected at Aqaba, but the Egyptian Middle East news agency said that on orders from the U.S. consul at Port Said, the Green Island changed course for an Ethiopian port. The U.S. Embassy denied any knowledge of the reported change.

Nasser's speech Friday was broadcast by Cairo radio. He said, "We will not back down on our rights in the gulf." If it breaks out, he said, "it will be total war and the objective will be to destroy Israel."

Objective Achieved His speech came after Al-Ahram, which often reflects Nasser's political thinking, said Egypt had achieved its objectives against Israel and that war would come only if Israel starts it.

"The United States is our enemy," Nasser declared. "Britain is our enemy. Both are taking sides with Israel. So long as they support Israel, they are our enemies. When we are trying to exercise our legal rights, they threaten us with war and say peace is endangered."

He said he hoped all Arab countries around Israel would form a solid front, but conceded there were difficulties with Jordan, Israel's eastern neighbor.

Cairo radio announced that the X-King Saud of Saudi Arabia has contributed $3 million to the Egyptian army. Meanwhile, troops from his nation, now under his half-brother King Faisal, were reported by Mecca radio to be marching to frontline positions in the eastern shore of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Health Praise Given Compact

The Community Mental Health Center Compact will serve as host to a group of mental health professionals from Arizona, who will visit Alger, Delta and Marquette counties to view a comprehensive mental health program that the federal government has acclaimed as a model for rural and semi-rural areas. (The program has great difficulty getting started because of government red tape.)

William T. Luzader, social work consultant; Robert Lofgren, chief, Mental Health Section and John Scully, chief, Planning and Construction Section will arrive from Arizona on May 31. Their schedule will include a visit to St. Mary's Hospital Psychiatric Unit, Marquette, where they will meet with Compact staff members. They will be honored at a luncheon at which Dr. David Wall, director of Compact, will preside.

A tour of the tri-county area, including a visit with the staff assigned to Escanaba, will highlight the afternoon portion of their visit.

Dr. Wall expressed the sentiments of the Compact staff in a statement to Act 54 Board members. "It is a pleasure to be recognized by the federal government as a model program that others may benefit from, but we cannot afford to become complacent. We must continue to expand our services, both public and private, to meet the mental health needs of the people in our area."

This group represents the third group to visit the Compact area. Earlier this year a delegation from Alpena and a delegation from Petoskey were received by the Compact staff.

The Community Mental Health Center Compact has been formed to serve Alger, Delta and Marquette counties with comprehensive mental health services. Compact is financed by a grant from the federal government, state funds under Act 54, local appropriations and fees for services rendered.

Free Texts For All Approved By Education Board

LANSING — The State Board of Education this week went on record as endorsing free textbooks for students in both public and private schools.

Carmen Dell'Quadri, board member, Houghton, brought the proposal before the board and said that if non-public students were not provided free textbooks if ever they were provided, the exclusion would be a step backward.

The board this year asked the Michigan Legislature to appropriate $10 million for free textbooks, but the measure was not approved by lawmakers. It was estimated that providing textbooks for non-public school students would require an appropriation of about $1,750,000.

The policy including non-public students was adopted on a 6-1 vote.

Council Votes New Utility

The City Council in a special meeting and public hearing Friday afternoon at the City Hall officially established the city's new waste water utility.

Action was taken unanimously after no objections were raised.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe said the only questions which have come to him concerning the added charge to be made on water bills concerned residents watering lawns in summer. The Mayor pointed out that the council has set the summer rates (from June through August) lower than the rate for the rest of the year.

Charges for waste water disposal service will be levied on the basis of 50 per cent of the water service charge for the months of September through May with a 40 per cent charge added in June, July and August.

The ordinance takes effect July 1.

Council also gave second reading, public hearing and adoption to the 1967-68 tax and appropriations ordinances. Both were passed without objection. In other business, a resolution giving the mayor and clerk authorization to execute an agreement with Upper Peninsula Power Co. for an easement across city-owned land east of U.S. 2 and 41 for power transmission lines was approved.
